Ridematching tips

- To find the most ridematches, be flexible in your trip start and return times. If no match appears, select Advanced Search and deselect Trip Times Should Match.
- Although you can limit who can see your trip, the more people who show their trip information, the more ridematches people have to choose from.
- If members of your carpool do not share the driving equally, consider a cost-sharing agreement.
- Try meeting your carpool buddy before your first trip. It's a good way to break the ice.
